Timminco Limited
annual report
2008

A new leader in a new industry.

Timminco is a leader in the production and marketing of lightweight metals, specializing in solar grade silicon for the rapidly growing solar photovoltaic (PV) energy industry.

The new millennium is facing many challenges as well as great new opportunities. Our mandate was to present solar energy as one of them.

Our solution?

The 2008 book had to be bold, bright, energetic as well as educational and informative. We focused on the solar energy "revolution", explained its ramifications and shared forecasts. As well we educated the reader about the intricacy and advantages of Timminco's proprietary production of upgraded metallurgical silicon (UMSi) for the solar energy industry.
